1 The General Counsel of the Agricultural Labor Relations Board, (“ALRB”), pursuant to
2 Section 1160.2 of the Agricultural Labor Relations Act of 1975, California Labor Code section
3 1140 et seq. (“Act”) and California Code of Regulations, title 8, section 20220, hereby issues this
4 complaint, in the name of the ALRB, and on behalf of the United Farm Workers of America
5 (“UFW”). The complaint is issued against Gerawan Farming, Inc. (“Gerawan”). The General
6 Counsel alleges as follows:

7 JURISDICTION AND PARTIES

8 1. On July 15, 2013, the UFW properly filed charge 2013-CE-010-VIS alleging that on 9 or about July 1, 2013 and continuing, Gerawan committed an unfair labor practice by having its 10 supervisors circulate and coerce its agricultural workers into signing a petition to decertify the 11 UFW as the collective bargaining representative of Gerawan’s employees. The UFW properly
12 served Gerawan via certified mail with a true copy of the charge on July 15, 2013.

13 2. At all times material herein, the UFW was a labor organization within the meaning of 14 Section 1140.4 (f) of the Act.

15 3. At all times material herein, Gerawan was an agricultural employer within the 16 meaning of Sections 1140.4 (a) and (c) of the Act. Gerawan is a corporation duly organized and 17 existing under the laws of California. Gerawan’s principal place of business is in Fresno, 18 California. Gerawan is engaged in growing, packing, and shipping fresh fruit.

19 FACTS

20 4. At all times material herein, the United Farm Workers of America (“UFW”) was the 21 certified bargaining representative of Gerawan’s agricultural employees in California.

22 5. Cirilo Gomez (“Gomez”) is a foreman for Gerawan and is a statutory supervisor under 23 the Act. Gomez has the authority to responsibly direct the work of agricultural workers in his 24 crew and to effectively recommend discipline. Gomez has been a statutory supervisor and an 25 agent of Gerawan during the entire relevant period.

26 6. Leonel Nuñez (“Nuñez”) is a foreman for Gerawan and is a statutory supervisor under 27 the Act per Labor Code Section 1140.4. Nuñez has the authority to responsibly direct the work
28 of agricultural workers, effectively recommend discipline, and effectively recommend the hiring

1 of agricultural workers for Gerawan. Nuñez has been a statutory supervisor and an agent of 2 Gerawan during the entire relevant period.

3 7. Sonia Martinez (“Martinez”) is a forewoman for Gerawan and is a statutory 4 supervisor under the Act. Martinez has the authority to responsibly direct the work of 5 agricultural workers and to effectively recommend the discipline of agricultural workers for 6 Gerawan. Gerawan has been a statutory supervisor and an agent of Gerawan during the entire 7 relevant period.

8 8. On or about July 19, 2013, Gomez was leaving a field in Kerman, California at the 9 end of the shift and several women were gathering signatures for a petition to decertify the 10 UFW. Gomez took several signature sheets of the decertification petition from the women and 11 told members of his crew that they should sign the petition.

12 9. That same day, after telling workers from his crew to sign the de-certification petition, 13 Gomez put several sheets of the petition in his van so that the crew workers that he drove to and 14 from work would sign the de-certification petition.

15 10. On or about July 28, 2013, Nuñez gathered approximately 20 members of his crew,
16 held out a petition to de-certify the UFW and told the workers that they should sign it. Nuñez
17 told the workers in his crew that they should sign the petition to get rid of the union. Nuñez 18 told the workers in his crew that if the union was around, the company would go out of 19 business.

20 11. After telling the members of his crew that they should get rid of the union, Nuñez
21 approached one worker who refused to sign the petition after the meeting. Nuñez told this 22 worker that he knew that there were two union supporters in his crew and seven in Francisco
23 Maldonado’s crew.

24 12. On or about July 29, 2013, Martinez held up a de-certification petition while giving
25 instructions to her crew for the day. Martinez told the workers in her crew that they could sign 26 the petition to get rid of the union.

27 13. After explaining the petition and sending the employees to work, Martinez went row 28 by row to each employee to ask for signatures on the de-certification petition. In approaching at

1 least one worker with the de-certification petition, Martinez interrogated the worker about his 2 union sympathies by asking him if he supported the union.

3 FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION
4 California Labor Code § 1153 (a)
5 (Coercion)

6 14. As set forth in paragraphs 4 through 13 above, Gerawan has committed an unfair
7 labor practice under Section 1153(a) of the Act by coercing its employees in the exercise of their 8 rights under Section 1152 of the Act to freely choose whether they support the union or support
9 the de-certification of the union.

10 15. In providing assistance, instigating and encouraging the gathering of signatures for a 11 de-certification petition as set forth above, Gerawan has unlawfully coerced, interfered with and 12 restrained its agricultural employees in the exercise of their collective bargaining and concerted 13 activity rights under the Act.

14 SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION
15 California Labor Code § 1153 (a)
16 (Interrogation and Surveillance)

17 16. As set forth in paragraphs 4 through 13 above, Gerawan has committed an unfair
18 labor practice by unlawfully interrogating workers about their union activities and support.

19 17. As set forth in paragraphs 4 through 13 above, Gerawan has committed an unfair labor 20 practice by surveilling its employees' union and de-certification-related activities.

21 18. Through its acts of interrogation and surveillance, Gerawan has unlawfully coerced,
22 interfered and restrained its agricultural employees in the exercise of their collective bargaining
23 and concerted activity rights under the Act.

24 REQUEST FOR RELIEF

25 As the remedy for the unfair labor practices set forth above, the General Counsel seeks an 26 order requiring Respondent, its officers, agents, successors and assigns to:

- 27 A. Cease and desist from initiating, sponsoring, supporting, approving, 28 encouraging and circulating a decertification petition among employees;

- B. Cease and desist from interrogating and surveilling its agricultural employees with respect to their support or opposition to the union;
 - C. Cease and desist from, in any like or related manner, interfering with, restraining or coercing agricultural employees in the exercise of their rights guaranteed by Labor Code section 1152;
 - D. Issue a mailing of a Notice of Agricultural Workers' Rights Under the Act ("Notice") to all of Respondent's agricultural employees and grant access to ALRB Agents to provide a reading, and to post the Notice at Respondent's work sites, and to inspect the posting to ensure compliance for a period of 60 days, where Gerawan's agricultural employees are employed to inform agricultural employees of their rights under the Agricultural Labor Relations Act and of their rights as a result of the decision in this case.

FURTHER, the General Counsel seeks any other relief that is just and proper to remedy the unfair labor practices alleged herein.

Dated this 15th of August, 2013 at Visalia, California.

RIGHTS OF THE PARTIES TO A HEARING

Section 20269 – Rights of Parties to a Hearing

Any necessary party and any person granted party status pursuant to section 20268 shall have the right to appear at the hearing in person, or by counsel or other representative; to call, examine, and cross-examine witnesses; to introduce all relevant and material evidence, except that the participation of any intervening party may be limited by the administrative law judge.

HOW HEARINGS ARE SET

Section 20224 – Notice of Hearing

- (a) When a case is ready to proceed to hearing, the general counsel will notify the chief administrative law judge, who will cause a notice of hearing to issue, specifying the time and place of hearing. In the alternative, the general counsel may arrange with the chief administrative law judge to include the time and place of hearing in the complaint.

(b) Except where circumstances warrant an expedited hearing, no hearing shall be scheduled to commence less than fifteen (15) days after the issuance of the complaint, and no prehearing conference shall be scheduled to commence less than ten (10) days after the issuance of the complaint.

DISCOVERY RIGHTS

Section 20235 – Request for Particulars.

Where a complaint lacks specificity as to the time, place or nature of the alleged conduct, or the identity of the persons who engaged in it, or fails sufficiently to identify the individual or group against whom the conduct was specifically directed, a written request for particulars may be made by the respondent in accordance with section 20237 to obtain such information; provided, however, that in responding the general counsel need not disclose the identity of any potential witness whose primary source of income is non-supervisory employment in agriculture.

Section 20236 – Matters Discoverable

(a) Upon written request, a party to a hearing is entitled to obtain from any other party to the hearing the names, addresses and any statements (as defined in section 20274(b)) of all witnesses, other than those whose primary source of income is non-supervisory employment in agriculture; provided, however, that any portion of a statement likely to identify a potential witness whose primary source of income is non-supervisory employment in agriculture shall be excised.

(b) Upon written request, a party to a hearing is entitled to obtain from any other party to the hearing the name, address, field of expertise, qualifications, and a brief description of expected testimony of any expert whom it intends to call as a witness. The responding party shall also make available any report prepared for it by such expert concerning the subject matter of the testimony to be given. The failure, without good cause, to comply with the requirements of this subsection shall be grounds for excluding such expert testimony.

(c) Upon written request, a party to a hearing shall be afforded a reasonable opportunity to examine, inspect and copy, and, where appropriate, to photograph and/or test, any writing or physical evidence in the possession or control of the party to the hearing to whom the request is directed which that party intends to introduce into evidence at hearing; provided, however, that any portion of a writing which identifies a potential witness whose primary source of income is non-supervisory employment in agriculture shall be excised, except that this proviso shall not apply to otherwise unprotected or unprivileged business records. Where the writing or physical evidence to be introduced is not yet in the possession or control of the responding party, it shall be identified with reasonable specificity.

(d) Upon written request, general counsel shall disclose to respondent any evidence which is purely and clearly exculpatory.

(e) In compliance proceedings, the general counsel shall, upon written request, make available to the requesting party to the hearing all information in its files, which tends to verify, clarify or contradict the items and amounts alleged in the backpay or bargaining makewhole specification unless the information is absolutely privileged, e.g., income tax returns, form W-2 (wage and tax statement), . . . etc.

Section 20237 – Requests for Discovery

(a) Requests pursuant to sections 20235 and 20236 shall be in writing and directed to the party from whom the information is sought. Copies need not be served on the Board.

(b) Requests shall be made no later than 15 days following service of the answer, and responses shall be due 15 days after receipt of the request; except that, for good cause shown, the chief administrative law judge or the executive secretary, as appropriate in accordance with sections 20240 and 20241, may extend or shorten the time to request or respond.

(c) Requests shall be deemed continuing. Any requested information which becomes available or is discovered after the initial response is to be provided as soon as reasonably possible.

Section 20238 – Order Compelling Discovery Sanctions

(a) A requesting party who believes that the responding party has failed, in whole or part, to comply with a proper request pursuant to sections 20235, 20236, or 20237 may apply in writing to the chief administrative law judge for an order requiring compliance. No application will be entertained unless the applying party establishes that it first made a reasonable effort to resolve the matter by contacting or attempting to contact the responding party. The application shall include copies of the request and any response received, and shall be served on the responding party. If the responding party desires to oppose the application, he or she shall immediately notify the office of the chief administrative law judge. Depending on the proximity to hearing, the chief administrative law judge shall determine whether the opposition will be written or oral, when it will be due, and whether to assign the matter to an administrative law judge. When the dispute concerns the propriety of excising or failing to turn over a statement containing the name of a potential witness whose primary income is from non-supervisory agricultural employment, the privilege created by Evidence Code Section 1040(b)(2) is waived to the extent of allowing the chief administrative law judge or the assigned administrative law judge to examine the entire unexcised document in camera to determine what, if any, portions should be disclosed.

(b) If a party or its representative fails to comply with an order requiring compliance or otherwise fails to comply with the requirements of section 20235, 20236, or 20237, appropriate sanctions may be imposed either by the chief administrative law judge or, if the matter has been assigned for hearing, by the assigned administrative law judge. Sanctions may include refusing to receive testimony or exhibits, striking evidence received, dismissing claims or defenses, or such other action as may be appropriate, but shall not include imposition of financial penalties.

other date(s), or retain the initial date(s). The executive secretary's ruling will be finalized by issuance of a confirming notice of hearing.

(3) If the dates set for the hearing and/or prehearing in the initial notice of hearing are not objected to within the ten-day period, they will be finalized by the issuance of a confirming notice of hearing.

(4) In unusual situations where it is urgent that the hearing be held as soon as possible, (e.g., related court proceedings involving interlocutory relief), or when the agreed to dates would create scheduling conflicts, the executive secretary may decline to accept the dates mutually agreed to by the parties and instead select other dates.

(5) In computing the ten-day period, section 20170(b) allowing three additional days to respond to papers served by mail, shall not apply. The date(s) mutually agreed to must be communicated to the executive secretary within the ten-day period.

(c) Once the dates for the hearing and any scheduled prehearing conference have been finalized as provided in (b) above, the scheduled dates will not be subject to change unless extraordinary circumstances are established.

(1) The party seeking a continuance for extraordinary circumstances shall do so by written motion directed to the executive secretary with proof of service on all parties.

(2) The motion shall contain: (i) the dates presently assigned for hearing and prehearing and the dates to which continuance is sought; (ii) the facts on which the moving party relies, stated in sufficient detail to permit the executive secretary to determine whether the conditions set forth in the applicable guidelines have been met; and (iii) the positions of all other parties or an explanation of any unsuccessful attempt made to contact a party or the circumstances excusing such attempt.

(3) Where required by this regulation or where appropriate under the circumstances, supporting declarations shall accompany the motion.

(4) Motions for continuance shall be made as soon as possible after the moving party learns the facts necessitating the motion. Except in emergencies, motions shall be received no less than five (5) calendar days prior to the scheduled hearing.

(5) Once a motion for continuance has been ruled on by the executive secretary, a motion based on the same grounds shall not again be requested at the hearing.

(6) Any party opposing a motion for continuance shall notify the executive secretary as soon as possible. Depending on the proximity to the hearing, the opposing party will be allowed to respond in writing or orally as the executive secretary may determine. Written responses shall be served on the other parties.

(7) Where there is agreement on the terms of a settlement but there is insufficient time to file a written continuance motion, the moving party may present it orally by telephone to the executive secretary. The moving party shall thereafter

EXTENSIONS OF TIME AND CONTINUANCES

Section 20190 – Continuances of Hearing Dates

(a) An initial hearing date will be scheduled as soon as a case is ready for presentation. Once that hearing date has been finalized as provided below, the case should proceed to hearing as scheduled. Hearing dates will be assigned so that all cases set for a particular date can proceed on that date. Finalized hearing dates should therefore be regarded by counsel as firm dates.

(b) When a notice of hearing issues for an unfair labor practice or representation case, the dates indicated in the notice of hearing and any scheduled prehearing conference will be finalized unless the executive secretary receives a written communication within ten (10) days of the issuance of the notice of hearing, indicating that the parties have mutually agreed to a new hearing and/or prehearing date. It is the responsibility of the party objecting to the initial date(s) to contact the other parties and obtain their agreement for a modification. The objecting party is also responsible for communicating the new, agreed upon date(s) to the executive secretary.

(1) If a new date for the hearing and/or prehearing is mutually agreed to and communicated to the executive secretary within the ten day period, that date will be finalized by the issuance of a confirming notice of hearing.

(2) If the parties are unable to agree on a new date for the hearing and/or prehearing, the objecting party may submit a written request to the executive secretary within the ten day period, with copies to the other parties, indicating the reasons the initial date(s) are objected to and requesting date(s) which are more convenient. The request will be treated as a motion to continue, and all parties will be contacted by telephone and given an opportunity to respond. No further pleading in support of or in opposition to the continuance shall be filed unless requested by the executive secretary. In ruling on the request, the executive secretary may grant the continuance to the date(s) requested, select promptly reduce the motion to writing and serve it on the executive secretary and the other parties.

(d) After the opening of hearing, continuances of up to two working days may be granted by the assigned administrative law judge or investigative hearing examiner upon oral motion for good cause. The record of the hearing shall reflect the reasons given for the request, the agreement or absence of agreement of the other parties to the hearing, the reasons given for the granting or denial of the motion, and the date, time and location to which the hearing is continued. Requests for continuances for periods longer than two working days shall be in writing directed to the executive secretary with proof of service on all parties. The procedures set forth in subsection (c) above shall be followed and the guidelines set forth in subsection (e), (f) and (g) below, shall apply.

In ruling on a motion for continuance, all matters relevant to a proper determination of the motions will be taken into consideration, including:

- (1) The official case file and any supporting declaration submitted with the motion.
- (2) The diligence of counsel in bringing the extraordinary circumstances to the attention of the executive secretary and opposing counsel at the first available opportunity and in attempting otherwise to meet those circumstances.
- (3) The extent of and reasons for any previous continuances, extensions of time or other delay attributable to any party.
- (4) The proximity of the hearing date.
- (5) The condition of the hearing calendar.
- (6) Whether the continuance may properly be avoided by the substitution of attorneys or witnesses, or by some other method.

(7) Whether the interests of justice are best served by a continuance, by proceeding to hearing, or by imposing conditions on the continuance.

- (8) Any other facts or circumstances relevant to a fair determination of the motion.

(e) The following circumstances shall not constitute extraordinary circumstances warranting a continuance:

- (1) The fact that all parties have agreed to continue a hearing which has already been set pursuant to a notice of hearing.
- (2) Scheduling conflicts which could have been avoided by rescheduling during or after the ten-day period, or which can still be avoided by good cause, as described below, but which were known or should have been known to the requesting party prior to the expiration of the ten-day period or prior to the granting of any previous continuance.
- (3) Circumstances which would normally constitute good cause, as described below, but which were known or should have been known to the requesting party prior to the expiration of the ten-day period or prior to the granting of any previous continuance.
- (4) The willingness of the parties to enter into settlement negotiations.

Continuances for settlement will only be granted to consummate a settlement, the basic terms of which have already been agreed to.

(f) The following circumstances will normally be considered extraordinary circumstances warranting the granting of a continuance; provided, however, that the conditions specified for each have been met:

- (1) Unavailability of a witness only where: (i) the witness has been subpoenaed and will be absent due to an unavoidable emergency of which that counsel did not know, and could not reasonably have known, when the hearing date was finalized or any previous continuance was granted; (ii) the witness will present testimony essential to the case, and (iii) it is not possible to obtain a substitute witness.
- (2) Illness that is supported by an appropriate declaration of a medical doctor, or by bona fide representations of parties or their counsel or representative, stating the nature of the illness and the anticipated period of any incapacity under the following circumstances: (i) the illness of a party or of a witness who will present testimony essential to the case except that, when it is anticipated that the incapacity of such party or witness will continue for an extended period, the continuance should be granted on condition of taking the deposition of the party or witness in order that the hearing may proceed on the date set; with respect to such an essential witness, it must also be established that there is insufficient time to obtain a substitute witness; (ii) the illness of the hearing attorney or representative, except that the substitution of another attorney should be considered in lieu of a continuance depending on the proximity of the illness to the date of hearing, the anticipated duration of the incapacity, the complexity of the case, and the availability of a substitute attorney.
- (3) Death of the hearing attorney or representative where, because of the proximity of such death to the date of hearing, it is not feasible to substitute another attorney or representative. The death of a witness only where the witness will present testimony essential to the case and where, because of the proximity of death to the date of hearing, there has been no reasonable opportunity to obtain a substitute witness.
- (4) Unavailability of administrative law judge or investigative hearing examiner where there is no other available administrative law judge or investigative hearing examiner or where there is insufficient time for an otherwise available administrative law judge or investigative hearing examiner to become familiar with the case prior to the hearing. The executive secretary may act sua sponte in continuing a hearing pursuant to this subparagraph.
- (5) Substitution of trial counsel or representative only where there is an affirmative showing that the substitution is required in the interests of justice, and there is insufficient time for the new counsel or representative to become familiar with the case prior to the scheduled hearing date.
- (6) A significant change in the status of the case where, because of the addition of a named party or the need to amend the pleadings to add a new issue or allegation, a continuance is required in the interests of justice. The executive secretary may act sua sponte in continuing a hearing pursuant to this paragraph.

(g) The following circumstances will normally be considered extraordinary circumstances warranting the granting of a continuance; provided, however, that the conditions specified for each have been met:

- (1) Unavailability of a witness only where: (i) the witness has been subpoenaed and will be absent due to an unavoidable emergency of which that counsel did not know, and could not reasonably have known, when the hearing date was finalized or any previous continuance was granted; (ii) the witness will present testimony essential to the case, and (iii) it is not possible to obtain a substitute witness.
- (2) Illness that is supported by an appropriate declaration of a medical doctor, or by bona fide representations of parties or their counsel or representative, stating the nature of the illness and the anticipated period of any incapacity under the following circumstances: (i) the illness of a party or of a witness who will present testimony essential to the case except that, when it is anticipated that the incapacity of such party or witness will continue for an extended period, the continuance should be granted on condition of taking the deposition of the party or witness in order that the hearing may proceed on the date set; with respect to such an essential witness, it must also be established that there is insufficient time to obtain a substitute witness; (ii) the illness of the hearing attorney or representative, except that the substitution of another attorney should be considered in lieu of a continuance depending on the proximity of the illness to the date of hearing, the anticipated duration of the incapacity, the complexity of the case, and the availability of a substitute attorney.
- (3) Death of the hearing attorney or representative where, because of the proximity of such death to the date of hearing, it is not feasible to substitute another attorney or representative. The death of a witness only where the witness will present testimony essential to the case and where, because of the proximity of death to the date of hearing, there has been no reasonable opportunity to obtain a substitute witness.
- (4) Unavailability of administrative law judge or investigative hearing examiner where there is no other available administrative law judge or investigative hearing examiner or where there is insufficient time for an otherwise available administrative law judge or investigative hearing examiner to become familiar with the case prior to the hearing. The executive secretary may act sua sponte in continuing a hearing pursuant to this subparagraph.
- (5) Substitution of trial counsel or representative only where there is an affirmative showing that the substitution is required in the interests of justice, and there is insufficient time for the new counsel or representative to become familiar with the case prior to the scheduled hearing date.
- (6) A significant change in the status of the case where, because of the addition of a named party or the need to amend the pleadings to add a new issue or allegation, a continuance is required in the interests of justice. The executive secretary may act sua sponte in continuing a hearing pursuant to this paragraph.

(2) Parties shall have the right to appear in person at the hearing, or by counsel or other representative, to call, examine and cross-examine witnesses, and to introduce all relevant and material evidence. All testimony shall be given under oath.

(a) Extraordinary circumstances do at times occur which prevent parties or their counsel or representative from complying with the time limits contained in the regulations or orders of the Board for the filing and service of papers. In those situations, parties, or their counsel or representatives, may apply for extensions of time by written motion directed to the executive secretary or assigned administrative law judge, as appropriate in accordance with sections 20240 and 20241, with service on all other parties.

(b) Requests for extensions of time shall be filed or presented in the same manner as motions for continuances, except that, absent good cause shown, they are to be received at least three (3) calendar days before the due date of the papers to be filed. The request shall include the due date, the length of extension sought, the grounds for the extension, and the position of the other parties, in the same manner as required for continuances in subsection 20190(c)(2) above.

(c) Requests for extensions of time will be processed and ruled on by the executive secretary or assigned administrative law judge, as appropriate in accordance with sections 20240 and 20241, based on considerations similar to those described in subsections 20190(e), (f), and (g).

RIGHT TO APPEAR

Section 20370 – Investigative Hearings--Types of Hearings and Disqualification of IHE's

Investigative Hearings--Powers of IHE's

(b) The parties shall have the right to participate in such investigative hearing as set forth in Labor Code Sections 1151, 1151.2, and 1151.3.
